When you have a sick horse you do not hitch him up to a sulky and take him to the race track for a little healthful spin. You doctor him. You cannot work or recreate a man into good health any more than you can a horse. Bicycling will make healthy men more healthy; it will make unhealthy men more unhealthy. When a man has been living in too big a hurry, when he has worked himself out, when he has got so that he does not sleep or eat, or rest, and the whole world looks gloomy to him, it is time for him to take medicine. Then, when he is braced up a bit, it is time enough for him to take to the bicycle.

When a man's nerves have an edge on them, so that the least little disappointment raps on his temper like a file, when his stomach and liver and nerves are deranged, and he is continually gloomy and melancholy, he should take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It makes a man as hungry as a fisherman and sees to it that all the vital elements of the food are absorbed into the blood. It braces up the liver and puts it to work in the right way. It drives all bilious impurities from the system. It fills flesh, nerves, brain cells, sinews and bones with the life-giving elements of rich, red, pure blood. It makes a man healthy and then a bicycle will make him strong. Medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing "just as good."

"Through your skillful treatment I am once more a well man," writes J. N. Arnold, Esq., of Gandy, Logan Co., Neb. "I suffered for years with constipation and torpidity of the liver, irritation of the prostate and inflammation of the bladder. I took six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' and am permanently cured. You have been the means of saving my life."

A man or woman who neglects constipation suffers from slow poisoning. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. All medicine dealers sell them. No other pills are "just as good."

NEWS OF THE SAGEBRUSH STATE

Brief Items Culled From Exchanges From the Four Corners of Nevada.

The Bon-Ton hotel at Sodaville is now completed and ready for guests.

A shipment of horses was made from Eureka county last week to Cape Nome, Alaska.

Jim Twaddle of Wabuska was taken to San Francisco last week to have an operation performed for appendicitis.

The defendant in the case of Mrs. Katie Yeagly vs. the Southern Pacific Company, in which a verdict for $9,400 was rendered in favor of plaintiff last week, filed a motion for a new trial in the United States Court at Salt Lake City Monday.

Yesterday the Board of County Commissioners passed a resolution authorizing the agricultural building for sale at auction to the highest bidder. It is the intention of the Carson Chamber of Commerce to bid the building in, and give it or lease it at a rental of one dollar a year to the company first prepared to run it as a creamery.—Carson Appeal.

MINES AND MINING IN THIS STATE

News of Nevada's Leading Industry Clipped From Sagebrush Exchanges.

Four tons of ore from Wayburn mine in IXL district, Churchill county, sent to Salt Lake returned 2,400 ounces in silver bullion. This ore was taken from a chimney near the surface.

The benefit to be derived from the development of the smelting ore bodies of Nevada will be of an enduring character. The State will profit more from this form of mining development than it ever did from the wealth which the Comstock yielded.

The Supreme Court on Monday last affirmed the decision of the District Court of White Pine county, in the case of Paul vs. Kragus. The suit was brought by Paul for damages on the ground that Kragus had prevented his working in the Homestake mine at Hamilton, under a lease Paul held from Mrs. E. N. Robinson and R. M. Clarke. The District Court of White Pine county gave judgment in favor of Paul for $1,200 and the Supreme Court has affirmed the decision.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1900.

THE STATE FAIR.

In connection with what has been said in the JOURNAL about our mineral deposits and mining interests, our stock and general agricultural industries, it is proper to direct attention to our State fair for 1900. The State Agricultural Society, by its directors at its annual meeting on the 5th of the present month, made a selection of officers for the fair year. R. W. Parry of Washoe was elected president; A. Livinston of Ormeby was chosen vice-president, and Louis Boyer was elected secretary of the society. Other directors were assigned to special work connected with the business of the society, as before published in the JOURNAL.

It is and will be the work of the JOURNAL to aid in the future development of our State and to further the interests of our people by aiding to develop our industries. When aiding in the work mentioned we will not know politics in the application of principles required to aid our people, and our knowledge of politics will be declared only when it includes such principles and work as we believe will favor good government and the best interests of our State and the country at large.

Our State and district fairs are a means within our control to advertise by exhibit to kind. It will not only be a duty which the JOURNAL will assume to aid in an improving exhibit of our products, but the duty will continue after the exhibits are made, by proper review of the exhibits to aid in directing attention to the superior natural advantages in the State for the production of the best vegetable and mineral products the world has known.

When we say the best the world has known, it is not said in a jingo sense, as may be supposed by some, but is said because we are sure in our judgment that what we have said is true, and we challenge a world to an investigation to refute the truth of what is said about our vegetable products from natural soils, and our mineral products in variety, quantity and quality from our mountains and valleys.

The pavilion, with the exhibits included in its department, was, by direction of the board, assigned to the care of the JOURNAL, and it is our intention, if the people who are equally interested with us will aid, to have the most excellent exhibit in variety and quality of our products that has at any time been made in the State. If the exhibit when made will equal the ability of our State to produce, no such exhibit has been or can be made by any State in the Union as will be made at Nevada's State fair in quality.

We believe our people are alive to the need there is to make known to the world what our State can do in the production of all products of the North Temperate Zone, and that they will furnish an exhibit which will advertise the State in fair week, and when the fair is over the JOURNAL will do the work of further advertising to the world, which advertising will benefit the State, as we believe, in the near future.

The receipts of the pavilion have been set aside by the society as a special fund to the payment of premiums awarded upon exhibits made. The exhibit at the pavilion have been going on the premium list in many particulars in the past, but ample provision has been and will be made to meet the pavilion premium list at our next fair.

We mean business, in the interest of the State, and feel confident that the people will do their part to aid the good work.

THE TREATY IS MAKING TROUBLE.

The United States Senate was taken by surprise when the treaty prepared by Secretary Hay and Ambassador Pauncefoot at Washington was presented to that body for its action. It was not expected that the late abrogated Clayton-Bulwer treaty would be returned slightly changed but in fact retaining all that was vital in the instrument, making the proposed treaty an agreement, as construed by statesmen, offensive and defensive between the United States and Great Britain.

It is not in the line of American independence by any means. Why should it be upon any principal connected with the canal given over to England to control it or dictate to its management? When the United States has made a lease of the ground from the State of Nicaragua and built the canal with its money is there a cause in these matters that secures to England a right to demand or require a control in any manner of the canal.

Our people were of the opinion that the United States had made a good trade when we had given to England all it demanded on the Alaska boundary question in exchange for the right because of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty to build the canal but it seems that England has secured all it required in Alaska and largely the control of the canal should the treaty be approved.

A question arises upon the right by England to have anything to say about the Nicaraguan canal. There is no occasion that requires us to submit to the demands of Great Britain in any particular or to make with that power any agreement respecting it.

We occupy the relation of an independent nation securing for our use and paying for it with our money a water way connecting the two oceans which being true should we wear a halber given us by England respecting our own property? But it is said by Republican Senators, we are friendly with them and should not oppose the wishes of our friend, which is fireless twaddle over a children's quarrel. Would England yield to us any such rights without a valuable consideration?

England is schooled in values and no such thing would come to us under the circumstances present.

We are pro-British in the Boer war and why not be pro-British in all things. It is true there are some of us who believe we are not pro-British but it is a mistake. The order as given has made every one of us pro-British when McKinley and the money power informed Congress that we were British in feeling and then commanded that no resolutions of sympathy for the Boers should pass Congress, which is presumed to be a result of the understanding that the Duke of Manchester informed us about.

There is a question involved in the understanding respecting its extent, as it is beginning to take the form of a complete sell-out to our conqueror over the water. We will learn perhaps to our sorrow the extent of the understanding when it may be too late.

THE COMMISSIONERS

FINISH THEIR WORK

Dog Tax License to be Reinstated—Deferred Bills Passed.

Now the homeless canine must wear a tax or emigrate. The commissioners dug up an old ordinance yesterday and reinforced it. This local law requires that all canines must be licensed or otherwise disposed of by the owners of the law. As few Reno canines are worth the amount of the tax, $2, the majority of them will doubtless be "otherwise disposed of."

This ordinance will have full force and effect as soon as the license tags are obtained.

The question of licensing or abolishing the festive nickel in the slot machine came up for consideration by the board, but no definite action was taken.

The bill of George Peckham for viewing the Boynton road was passed over the auditor's veto.

The bill of the Reno Water, Land and Light Company, which had been laid over, was passed.

The board will meet again on the 20th in adjourned session.

Snarl in the Company.

Wednesday was the date set for election of officers by the Electric Mining and Reduction Company of this city. The stockholders' meeting was to be held in Boston. No word has yet been received of the outcome of the contest.

It is believed that the meeting will have to do with the matter of operating the reduction works in this city. The issue was between the Burton and the Williams factions in the company.

Not a Classical Quotation.

In the decline of the use of classical quotations in legislative bodies the Boston Herald cites the case of Edward Everett, who once concluded a speech in Congress with a long sentence and superbly modulated citation of a passage from Tacitus and then took his seat. No sooner was he through than up sprang a bulky member from what was then a frontier state of the west. He had once been an Indian agent, and no sooner was he on his legs than he began to pour out a vehement language in Choctaw. After awhile the speaker called him to order.

"I don't see why my freedom of speech should be abridged!" he cried. "You let the gentleman from Massachusetts run on, and I didn't understand the first word of his lingo any better than he does mine."

The scene was described as very comical, but it struck the deathknell of further classical quotations in a congress that had not the ray of an idea what the unintelligible lingo of Cicero and Tacitus was driving at.

His Story "Goes" Until He Does.

There is in Cowley county a big two-fisted farmer who has the reputation of being the biggest liar in the township. But he will fight at the drop of the hat, and men are very chary of accusing him. The other day he went into Dexter and told that he had a 9-month old calf that gave three quarts at a milking and after recounting this story, the local paper said, "Mr. Horrell is still in town, and we are convinced that his calf is a wonder."

THE TIDE OF BATTLE

BRITISH PUBLIC UNEASY

Fear News of Another Disaster--No Late News From the Front.

Special to the JOURNAL.

LONDON, February 9, 4 A. M.—All the messages from the observers with Buller throw in a phrase or two about the strength of the Boer position and the difficulties ahead of the English, but they do not carry events beyond Tuesday evening. Last advices left the British advance on Vaal Krantz in the center of a semi-circle at which the troops are exposed to Boer artillery fire on both sides and in the center.

Fighting undoubtedly continued Wednesday, and silence from the front leaves the public very uneasy. There is no disguising the fact that the British fear another great disaster.

In Cape Colony General MacDonald had a skirmish with a thousand Boers at Koodoburg at noonday. The Boers are fighting General French near Rensburg, as well as Gatacre in the Stormburg hills.

The latest advices from Ladysmith state that little can be seen of General Buller's action, owing to the haze. It appears that the Boers have withdrawn their big guns from the hills southward. A large force of Boers still remain and a night attack is expected.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Governor Goebel was buried at Frankfort yesterday.

A terrific windstorm wrought great damage yesterday in Illinois.

The coal famine in Germany, due to striking miners, is assuming a threatening aspect.

Half a million acres of forest reserve land in Washington will be thrown open to settlers.

At Black Hawk, Colorado, Wednesday W. M. Allen killed his wife, daughter and himself as the result of a trifling dispute.

Congress has passed a law extending to Alaska many of the laws now operating in admitted States.

Cobett and Jeffries have arranged to fight in San Francisco in April.

It is reported that the Government is moving quietly to obtain possession of the Danish West Indies.

The Lawton funeral train will reach Washington to-day.

A railroad collision in Chicago Wednesday resulted in two deaths.

General Otis has requested the War Department to relieve him of his command. He will probably be succeeded by General McArthur.

The transports Sherman, Indiana and Pathan have arrived from Manila. They brought 124 wounded and invalid officers and men and 100 bodies.

My son has been troubled for years with chronic diarrhoea. Sometimes ago I persuaded him to take some of Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After using two bottles of the 25 cent size he was cured. I give this testimonial, hoping some one similarly afflicted may read it and be benefited.—I was O. BOWEN, Glenwood, O. For sale by Wm. Pinniger, Druggist.

As a cure for rheumatism Chamberlain's Pain Balm is gaining a wide reputation. Dr. B. Johnston of Richmond, Ind., has been troubled with that ailment since 1862. In speaking of it he says: "I never found anything that would relieve me until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It acts like magic with me. My foot was swollen and painful very much, but one good application of Pain Balm relieved me." For sale by Wm. Pinniger, Druggist.

A SURE CURE FOR COUGH

Twenty-five Years' Constant Use without a Failure.

The first indication of cough is hoarseness, and in a child subject to that disease it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the cough appears, it will prevent attack. It is used in many thousands of homes in this broad land and never disappoints the anxious mothers. We have yet to learn of a single case in which it has not proved effective. No other preparation can show such a record—twenty-five years' constant use without a failure. For sale by Wm. Pinniger, Druggist.

A PITIFUL CASE OF

SICKNESS AND STARVATION

Reno Woman Dying for Want of Food

—Worthy Object of Charity.

Helpless and old and ill, Mrs. Yeager lies in her little cabin at the corner of First and Virginia streets.

She has not a relative in the world upon whom to call for assistance. For the past month she has been slowly starving. A good hearted colored woman, almost as poor as herself, has been bringing her an occasional basket-full of eatables, which alone has kept her feeble breath within her body.

Last Sunday Mail Carrier Parlin found that the old lady was perishing of starvation although too proud to ask for aid. He bought her wood and groceries and arranged that for the present she would not lack for the bare necessities of life. Other people, learning of the case, have supplied her with nursing and medicines.

Mrs. Yeager came to this city two years ago from Austin and is a native of Mexico. It seems that her case is a worthy one and the JOURNAL suggests that if there be a charitable organization in this city, it render her some assistance.

CLERK'S OFFICE

IS NOT VACANT

Porter Has Additional Time in Which to Secure More Bonds.

The rumor was circulating on the streets yesterday that the office of County Clerk had been declared vacant by the board.

This is a mistake. The truth of the matter is that about twelve days ago O. C. Rose, one of the bondsmen for Mr. Porter, had given notice that he would no longer be responsible in the matter. It requires ten days to secure a bondsman's release, and the board at first thought the time had expired, and that the County Clerk's office was without a boss.

It was afterwards learned that no personal service had been made by Mr. Rose, but that the document had been given to a deputy. This, in the opinion of the District Attorney, did not constitute a personal service.

Mr. Porter was therefore given additional time in which to find a new bondsman. He stated to one of the commissioners that he desired an examination to be made of his accounts.

A Mining Deal.

The scribe was informed last evening by one of the interested parties that Messrs. Potthoff, Brown, Mickell and Updike would bond some of their mining properties to-day.

The four claims in the alleged deal are located on the big copper ledge recently discovered near this city. They adjoin the properties bonded by O. C. Wallace and associates a few weeks ago. The same parties are scheduled to take Mickell & Co.'s claims. It is said that $30,000 is the figure agreed upon.

They Want It, Yes They Do.

What Reno People Say About a Fire Alarm Outfit.

One of the commissioners, when asked by a JOURNAL scribe why action on the fire alarm matter had been postponed, replied that the board had no evidence that the citizens and taxpayers of Reno favored the purchasing or leasing of a system.

In this and possibly succeeding articles we will publish interviews with business men and capitalists taken at random, and not obtained by "leading" questions. Here is the first installment:

HENRY RITER—I favor buying a rattling good fire alarm system. Reno wants to keep abreast of the times. Nothing is more needed at present to go with the new engine house than the best alarm system in the market.

JAY CLEMONS—Next to getting a rock crusher and macadamizing the streets, I think a fire alarm system is the most "crying need" of the times.

C. J. BROOKINS—It is almost a necessity that a fire alarm system should be installed. I am not conversant with the various systems to be obtained but I favor buying the kind that other cities of Reno's class have found successful.

OTTO HARTUNG—I, as I am told, a non-interfering fire alarm system will reduce rates of insurance about as much or more than it increases taxation, I favor getting one.

J. A. FIZGERALD—I most heartily favor purchasing a fire alarm system. The department is incomplete without one. We want the best that can be obtained at a moderate cost. We also want a system that can be extended as the town grows. Let's look ahead. Last year my insurance was $625. A fire alarm system would result in a material reduction of this amount.

H. BLOOM—I favor buying and installing a fire alarm system, getting the best that can be obtained at the most moderate cost.

R. W. PARRY—I have not personally investigated this matter. The commissioners, however, should take such action that will keep the town abreast of the times.

ADOLPH SHANE—Where towns have fire alarm systems the insurance rates are much lower than where they are without such device. I think the commissioners will make no mistake if they purchase the best system in existence, if the cost is not extortionate. The best is the cheapest.

WARD McNEILLY—If the commissioners had to run to fire at all hours without knowing in many instances where the blaze was, they would buy a system off hand.

Would You Enjoy a Rare Treat?

Then go to the Congregational Church tomorrow evening and hear the Hon. F. X. Schoonmaker. He stands to-day easily in the front rank of great orators. Following is one of a multitude of eulogistic notices:

"Schoonmaker's lecture was full of information about China and the Chinese. We all want him back for a second lecture."—Prof. Abshire, Principal of Schools, Yuba, Cal.

At Rosenthal & Aramko's a season ticket (for the entire course of three lectures) $1; single admission, 50 cents.
